

438

TITHEODOSIUS II, Emperor of East
published the Theodosian Code

438

Theodosius II (401-450)
Emperor of the East, revised Roman legal code.

Theodosius II (nephew of Theodosius the Great) issued the Theodosian Code - book of laws.

438

Duncan; Cal

Rome ceded Carthage to the Vandals

438

THEODOSIAN CODE

438

The year 438 brought no victors for the Goths

438

Gen Hist

THEODOSIUS II (408-450)

Novellae Against the Jews and heretics

438

Theodosian Code of law
(in East)

438

CODEX THEODOSIANUS

Codification of Roman Law
Published under the direction of Emperor THEODOSIUS II
of the Byzantine Empire in 438.

438

Codex Theodosianus was published contained all the constitutions from the time of Constantine

438 AD

The "THEODOSIAN" Code, a compilation of decrees for the Empire, was issued by Theodosius II; it had great influence on subsequent civil and ecclesiastical law